

Surgical Innovations (SI) announcement that it has raised £1.6 million following an investment from Mr Chris Rea, has received lots of media coverage this week.

The funds raised will provide additional working capital for the Group's strategy for growth and strengthen its ability to move rapidly and effectively into two key areas of minimally invasive surgery: the offering of a unique clinical solution for 3mm surgery and a Resposable® universal seal port access system that together support an enhancement in the Group's revenues per surgical procedure.

Publications that have covered the story include The Yorkshire Post, the Yorkshire Insider, the Morning Star and The Business Desk.
