

This week Graham Bowland, CEO of Surgical Innovations (SI), will be in San Francisco, California to attend the AAOS (American Association of Orthopaedic Surgeons) Conference to drive SI forward in the area of arthroscopy.

AAOS is a source of knowledge, leadership and advocacy in musculoskeletal health and represents an ideal opportunity for SI to meet with surgeons in the field of arthroscopy. Arthroscopy is a minimally invasive surgical procedure which involves examination and treatment of joints. This area will be a focus of SI in the coming years with our concept design team currently working on cutting-edge new creative solutions.

The Clinical Advisory Board (CAB) has recently expanded to include a new arthroscopy division, currently consisting of Jon Conroy and Sion Glyn-Jones. Jon, Consultant Orthopaedic Surgeon, and Sion, Consultant Hip Surgeon, have the experience and expertise to work with our concept designers on initial designs, as they develop a pioneering range of arthroscopic solutions.
