

Teleflex, our important distributors in EMEA, have attended a two day advanced training session at SI to learn more about the technical and clinical benefits of our products.

Hosted at our head office In Leeds, 15 delegates from Teleflex attended the event where they were given a detailed insight into the unique benefits of products such as YelloPort+plus[®] and PretzelFlex[™].

Members of our Business Development and Design Team ran the product training sessions. Co-founder of SI Professor Mike McMahon and Clinical Advisory Board (CAB) members Philippe Grange and James Halstead also attended to talk about the clinical benefits of each product.
